Restaurants and takeaways

When you eat out or buy takeaways, you should avoid the same high-risk foods you would avoid at home. Piping hot (over 70°C) food is your best choice. However, you have little control over the way food is prepared in restaurants and takeaways.

When eating in a restaurant or eating takeaway food:

- your food should be well cooked and prepared just before it is served to you;
- eat food that is piping hot;
- · avoid eating from buffets, smorgasbords, salad bars or from street vendors, as the risks are harder to manage.
